Cancellation Policy

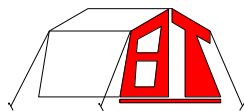

1. Special Order Goods

Please note that we require a 60% (sixty percent) deposit in respect of moulds made to your specific instructions and specifications. Should you cancel your order after we proceeded to manufacture the mould, you will forfeit the deposit paid.

Should you cancel your order after approval of the samples from the trial run and after we proceeded to manufacture your order, you may not cancel the order and you will be liable for the payment of such order in full.

2. Standard Orders

You may cancel orders for our standard goods/products before delivery in which event we may impose a reasonable cancellation fee having regard to the nature of the order, the length of notice of cancellation received, the potential to find alternative clients for your order and the reason for the cancellation.
